

For those who have had the privilege of hearing Rachel Miller speak, you know her story is one that stays with you. At 93 years old, Rachel continues to share her experiences with grace, resilience, and an unwavering commitment to remembrance.

Recently, she sat down with Mike Bush for KSDK's *Making a Difference to talk about the impact of Holocaust education. In the segment, she speaks with students from Macon Middle School, who traveled three hours to hear her firsthand account of survival, loss, and hope.

Join us for the upcoming exhibition, Some Were Neighbors: Collaboration & Complicity in the Holocaust, at the Missouri State Capitol from April 7-11, 2025. This exhibition is made possible and sponsored by the Missouri Holocaust Education and Awareness Commission.

This exhibition addresses one of the central questions about the Holocaust: How was it possible? Created by the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, DC, this 21-panel thought-provoking exhibition examines a variety of motives and pressures that influenced individual choices to act.

Location:

Missouri State Capitol (Third Floor Rotunda)
201 W. Capitol Ave.
Jefferson City, MO
Open M-F, 8 am - 5 pm
